

Elemental invocation and banishing By -Lord Shamur, Prince of Darkness-

How to properly invoke and banish the elements. The elements of the pentagram is done in the name of YHShVH which is Yeheshuah in hebrew. In the hebrew the aleph-bet is read from right to left instead of how the western texts are read. That is why fire is down-right and earth is down-left. Spirit is in the middle and so forth. For the elements the YHVH is Fire-Water-Air-Earth. Here is a picture to help you:

When banishing you trace AWAY from the element. When invoking you trace TOWARDS the element.

East – Air – Raphael – Shaddai El Chai - Yellow
South – Fire – Michael – YHVH Tzabaoth - Red
West – Water – Gabriel – Elohim Tzabaoth - Blue
North – Earth – Uriel – Adonai Ha-Aretz - Green/Black

When it is an spirit up pentagram it means Spirit over Matter(+). When it's downwards it means Matter over Spirit or the (-) pentagram. The elements needs to be done in both ways for them to have a really fascinating effect, which in terms of itself means Self-Mastery. When you put a circle around the pentagram you are confining the pentagram invocation/banishing to a fixed point. When you use it without a circle it channels it around.

Usually you use a God Name to 'power' up the pentagram. This can be from the hebrew God Names or some other God Names that powers it up. The Arch Angels can also be invoked inside the pentagram in the end of the ritual according to the LRP.

Spirit flows from Spirit to Fire and to Earth. Fire and Water creates Air. Spirit and Water creates Earth. It's just how things are. When doing the Spirit element you actually use Air. It should be done last because things can get pretty nasty if you haven't cleaned out Fire, Water and Earth. I did it before Earth and it was a mistake now that I think about it later on.

The elements needs to be invoked until you get 'fed up' or 'bored' of that element, then you know you have hit the maximum effect of it. Many think that it will take a month or so to master it, wrong, for me it took up to 7 years to master. So ponder upon that very carefully.

Fire is the opposite of Water, and Air is the opposite of Earth. Spirit just is with EHEIEH or "I Am".

You should try to after the positive invocations (which is a must to begin with) to also do the negative aspects of them, just to see how your psyche is made up and how much negative emotions are inside yourself. This will give you a better chance of making it into a spiritual Perfection. Spiritual Perfection is achievable in the material world, but it means that you will not reincarnate again, anyone who is with kundalini knows that this Spiritual Perfection comes with Surrendering to the e-motions.

Start with your favorite element, then start with your positive aspects of the element that you are worst with. It will be hard to go through even if it's the positive Spirit aspect of it, and it's very cheering up for the body to go through these.

To do this I will now explain how to really do the ceremony of invocation.

Do the elemental banishing ritual of the pentagram as a starter to clean up your space.

"Chant Ateh, Malkuth, Ve-Geburah, Ve-Gedulah, Le Olam, Amen" For Ateh make a cross top point over your head. Then draw the cross downwards for Malkuth thinking about your feet. Then go to left shoulder and chant Ve-Geburah, then go to right shoulder to chant Ve-Gedulah then grasp your hands and say "Le Olam, Amen"

So banish Air in the East and Fire in the South and Water in the West and Earth in the North.

When you have made the Air pentagram in the East strike the pentagram with your hand and vibrate "Shaddai El Chai". For Fire in South, "Yod-Heh-Vav-Heh Tzabaoth". For Water in West "Elohim Tzabaoth". For Earth in North "Adonai Ha-Aretz". Then say

“Before me Arch Angel Raphael, Behind me Arch Angel Gabriel, Right side Arch Angel Michael, Left side Arch Angel Uriel. For about me flames the pentagrams and in the column shines the 6 rayed stars”. Then imagine 3 Hexagrams flaring one at your top of the head, one at the dan tien, and one at the feet.

This was just to clear up the space for your coming invocation. Next go to the corresponding direction of the element and create an invocation pentagram of the element you want to invoke. Then you create a circle around the pentagram to define the space into yourself. You can then chant the appropriate god name and arch angel into the element. This practice is very good to do on a carpet as the carpet ‘sucks’ on to you magick in the air that this ceremony creates. You can also easily lie down on the carpet and let the invocation ritual just fill you up for as long as you want. I would do the corresponding element for 6 months everyday before trying another one. If you have time do it for 1 hour. Otherwise 15 minutes is fine to get a feeling for it.

After 6 months move into direct sorcery because your subconscious is already familiar with the element and just focus in everyday mundane activities with your own subconsciousness to invoke the element ALL the time until you get bored of it. When you get bored to it move to the next element.

After you have mastered Fire, Water and Earth move into Air or the final element of Spirit. This can then alter your current perception of reality into something resembling a Divine Insanity going on until you have finished with your Air element. For me the Air element took me over 1 year to invoke to finally get mastery over it, so take your time.
